Chairman's Statement

Dear Shareholders,

In early 2014, the steady rise in the economic statistics and continuous market improvement of Europe and the United States offset the impact of the relatively weak Asian market. All in all, the global market was still quite positive at the beginning of the year. Subsequently, however, the global economy demonstrated its slackened development, with the weaker-than-expected recovery in European Union, underestimated negative impact of the uplifted consumption tax in Japan, and the late occurrence of economic rebound in the United States which happened one quarter later than expected. The generally weak performance in major economies around the globe which fell short of expectations in their recovery have also resulted in the diminished pace in the growth of emerging economies, which relied upon the growth of major economies including Europe and the United States, and hence lead to the slowdown in their economic growth. The tension arising from the geopolitical conflicts involving regions including Russia, Ukraine, Syria and the Middle East and economic sanctions also increase the economic risks. Topics that should also draw attentions include: the debt issues in European Union that are yet to be resolved; emerging economies are growing at rates below the long-term trend and facing the challenges of structural adjustments. It is estimated by Global Insight Inc., Dec 2014 that the rate of aggregate global economic growth in 2014 is at 2.7%.

Looking forward to 2015, the global economic growth expected to be fuelled by the international expectation of low oil prices, steady recovery of the United States' economy, adoption of expansionary monetary policies in Europe and East Asia regions will provide support for a more positive trend of economic performance around the world. It is expected that the mild performance in economic growth in 2014 will continue, whilst the continual expansion will be at different paces across major regions in the world. On the other hand, the recovery will be posed with new challenges, including geopolitical conflicts in regions such as the Middle East and Russia, the chain reaction arising from the early interest rate rise following the withdrawal of the United States' quantitative easing policy, and the effectiveness of economic stimulus policies in different nations, which will contribute to further risks and uncertainties in the future economic performance and affect the development of economic trends.

Passive component manufacturing is an industry characterized by high production volume and low unit price, and most of the products are applied in the 3C sector. The increasing demand for smart handsets, such as smart phones and tablet computers, the growing popularity of wearable device products and the rapid growth of medium to low end smart handsets to cater to the needs of the emerging consumer markets have steadily supported the demand for and the production value of electronic parts and components. However, given the susceptibility of end-product markets, including 3C, to the fluctuations of economic cycle, passive component manufacturers even target at the non-3C application industries and take an active role in developing the low-volume high-priced niche markets, including cars, 4G LTE base stations, LED street lamps, industrial equipment and renewable energy resources equipment, in order to avoid the operational risks arising from business fluctuations. As a comparison, non-traditional 3C applications belong to the niche market, which is characterized by high gross profit and stable unit price. Passive component suppliers begin operating in these sectors and adjust their product portfolio in order to boost their gross profits. The future of passive components is expected to continue to feature high capacity, high voltage, high frequency, high resistance to heat, miniaturization and so on. Meanwhile, due to the localization of industrial supply chains in China, the relevant local brands are benefiting from the continual expansion of the end-user market. With the advantage of geographical proximity, those local brands strengthen the local manufacturing chain, enhance their supply chain competitiveness in electronic parts and components, and pose threat to Taiwan's industry of electronic parts and components. In this connection, gross profit and price wars will still be the general trend in market share competition for the passive component market.

The industry chain of passive components is challenged by two major issues, namely the lack of the exclusive source of supply of raw materials and the high production cost brought by the acquisition of machinery required for manufacturing high-end products. Capxon International Electronic Company Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively the "Group") are one of the market players who can leverage the supply advantage brought by the vertical integration of raw materials and passive component products. The Group will continue to persistently invest in research and development ("R&D") and equipment in order to meet customers' specific specification requests and to enhance the supply stability of various series of capacitors. As for the aluminum foil business, the Group will join hands with capacitor manufacturers in the product development process and assist them in the joint development of materials to meet specific material requests; thereby ushering development opportunities in future market demand.

In response to the ever-changing market demands, the Group will, on the one hand, proactively cater to the product demand of existing clients and capitalize on the advantages brought by vertical integration of upstream and downstream production chain to offer better services. On the other hand, the Group will actively solicit new clients, enhance its R&D capacity for product functionality improvements and lower its production costs in order to better satisfy customers' needs, thereby maximizing returns to shareholders.

In 2014, the results of the strategic operation of the Group's two major products are as follows:

1. OPERATIONS IN THE ALUMINUM FOIL MARKET

The capacity expansion of formed foils in recent years has led to excessive capacity which was yet to be matched with sufficient sales orders. In 2014, the overall recovery was slow. The slackened demand in the market of mainland China resulted in the failure to meet the expected interim sales figures and thus a substantial drop in the sales volume of our medium-high voltage formed foils. As the production value of the aluminum foils was low while the per unit cost stayed high, and the selling prices of the products remained low, gross profit was therefore affected by the higher cost but lower selling price. Notwithstanding the gloomy environment of the industry, the good quality of the Group's aluminum foil products enabled Capxon Electronic Technology (QingHai) Co., Ltd. (凱普松電子科技(青海)有限公司) ("Capxon Qinghai"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, to achieve proper cost control and mitigate the impact of low gross profit by taking advantage of the relatively low electricity tariff, supplemented by large-scale purchase of raw materials and price control through bulk purchase, and by leveraging on its improved production and processing technologies and quality control and inspection, whilst suppliers were generally disturbed by insufficient operation rates amidst the downturn of the aluminum foil market.

Currently, the production line of formed foils in Capxon Qinghai has been maintaining steady mass production. Various key technical R&D projects have also achieved the expected goals:

- A segmented intelligent tension control system was installed on the production line to maintain the tension balance between each segment of the production line in order to guarantee the steady operation of aluminum foil production and ensure consistency in the quality of aluminum foils.
- A technical parameter monitoring early warning platform was established on the production line. Through online supervision of each technical parameter throughout the aluminum foil production process, the dynamic information about each technical parameter of the production line is identified and recorded in a timely manner. In case of any abnormal data deviation, instant early warning and timely management can be conducted to prevent aggravation of the production line techniques. The establishment of such platform can effectively reduce the product defect rate by facilitating control of the production techniques and monitoring of the production process.
- The fluid supply system on the production line was transformed from supplying both water and fluid to fluid supply only. The change of fluid supply method helps maintain the stability of the thickness of the electrolytic tank solution on the production line, thereby enhancing the standardization of product quality.
- The introduction of imported raw materials with stable quality this year has significantly improved the production of aluminum foils with high specific volume and high flexibility and reversed the situation of relying partially on imported aluminum foils with high specific volume and high flexibility.
- Plastic plates were used to cover the graphite plates in electrolytic tanks at different angles and different shapes, to improve the even distribution of electric current in electrolytic tanks within the etching production lines, and in turn the even distribution in electric current on the surface of aluminum foils, so as to maintain the consistent quality of aluminum foils.

Given our target-achieving technical R&D, stable output and proper monitoring and control over the production process, it is expected that the Group's supply of formed foils will not merely satisfy its internal demand but also be sufficient to persistently meet the needs of other capacitor manufacturers. In future, in light of the economic structure reform and localization of industrial supply chain in mainland China, the Group will play a more active role in developing the aluminum foil market in China by leveraging on the vertically integrated strengths of its two major products and on its capability of supplying locally. In the meantime, the Group will continually explore the overseas markets by increasing the sales visibility of its aluminum foils with a view to reducing its dependence on the mainland China market. As for production strategies, the Group has, on the one hand, entered into agreements with its main suppliers to control its material acquisition cost through bulk procurement and, on the other hand, implemented measures for production technique enhancements, energy-savings and consumption reductions etc. through technological innovation in order to reduce production costs.

2. OPERATIONS IN THE ELECTROLYTIC CAPACITOR MARKET

With the start of the industrialized 4.0 era, the promotion of 4G network, and emergence of EV (electric vehicles) and its auxiliary electricity charging equipment, future R&D of the mass production of electrolytic capacitors will aim at addressing the demand for applications in variable-frequency drives, servo drives, chargers for communication bases and communication terminal products, and vehicle-carried electronic devices. The Group will be committed to addressing the requirements for compact size, high performance, and tailor-made products, promoting the application of electrolytic capacitors in various aspects in the European market, and expanding the global market share of its electrolytic capacitor products.

- The development, sale and application of capacitors for use in automobiles has been included in our development plan with a focus on the automobile electronics, braking system and power supply of rail transport, to conduct design and R&D of the highly reliable hybrid capacitors of 25V~80V for vehicle-carried applications according to specific customer requirements;
- Learning from the actual sales experience of Samsung Electronics, the 12V~16V conductive polymers used on quick cell phone chargers can be extensively promoted in the market of mainland China;
- Efforts were made to promote the application of conductive polymers in mother boards and display cards, so as to uplift the market share in this area;
- In line with the development of chargers for use in smart phones, we conducted R&D on capacitors for use in 550V~600V supra-high voltage chargers, and R&D on the reduced use of materials for capacitor production in order to improve profitability;
- We upgraded our Snap-in products to 7000Hrs performance in response to the requirements for the construction of electricity supply for 4G communication bases, so as to expand the market share in medium and large-sized capacitors in the area of communication applications;
- We developed Radial and Snap-in products of 500V or above, including capacitors of 2000Hrs, 5000Hrs and 10000Hrs, to go in line with the geographical difference in the sale of customers' products and their requirements regarding applications; and promoted the substantial increase in demand for 500V capacitors.

In 2015, Asia will be affected by the latest development of the global economy. It is expected that the growth of the gross domestic product of the Asian region in general will only be slightly higher than that in 2014. It is expected that Asian trade will benefit from the economic growth of the United States and the recovery of its consumption in general. The majority of such positive effect will however be offset by the slackened economic performance in Euro zone and the slowdown in China's growth. Compared to 2014, it is expected that this year will witness the stable development of Taiwan's export of electronic parts and components. With the drop of the annual sales growth arising from China-oriented orders amidst China's "red" supply chain, the full-year growth of the electronic parts and components industry will continue to be moderate. The Group will capitalize on the collective wisdom of its management team more effectively, leverage on its strengths and innovations, and consolidate its business foundation and competitive edges. Meanwhile, the Group will also make every endeavour to become an international market supplier by combining the competitive edges of its operations in mainland China, Hong Kong and Taiwan with a view to maximizing investment returns for the Company's shareholders as a whole.

Management Discussion and Analysis

FINANCIAL REVIEW

A summary of the financial results of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2014 (the "Year") is as follows:

- Revenue decreased by approximately 7.75% to approximately RMB989,625,000.
- Gross profit increased by approximately 8.96% to approximately RMB216,506,000.
- Loss for the Year attributable to owners of the Company amounted to approximately RMB138,918,000 (for the year ended 31 December 2013: profit of RMB5,446,000).

Reviewing the financial results of the Year, the Group's revenue was approximately RMB989,625,000, representing a decrease of approximately 7.75% over the same period last year. The sales of aluminum electrolytic capacitors for the Year were approximately RMB896,354,000, representing a decrease of approximately 2.71% as compared to that of RMB921,332,000 in the same period last year. Despite the moderate market performance with an estimated general economic growth of approximately 2.7% in 2014, the Group's electrolytic capacitors posted similar sales performance to last year due to weak market demand for electronic parts and components under limited momentum for economic recovery in Mainland China, Europe and Japan, whilst our operations primarily relate to manufacturers in Mainland China and customers in Europe and Japan. The sales of aluminum foils for the Year were approximately RMB93,271,000, representing a decrease of approximately 38.40% as compared to that of RMB151,409,000 in the same period last year. The decrease was mainly due to the excessive supply in the aluminum market as a result of the persistent weak recovery of the overall economy, and the more competitive selling prices of aluminum foils produced by Japanese manufacturers under the depreciation of Japanese Yen. Whilst the Group's revenue did not increase, the overall cost control enabled the Group to have an improved gross profit margin of approximately 21.88%, which increased from 18.52% in the same period last year.

Loss for the Year attributable to owners of the Company amounted to approximately RMB138,918,000, which was mainly due to the receipt of an arbitral award by Capxon Electronic Industrial Company Limited (豐賓電子工業股份有限公司) ("Capxon Taiwan"), a non-wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, on 9 August 2014 in respect of an arbitration claim filed by a Japanese customer in 2011 for the losses incurred from certain alleged defective electrolytic capacitors supplied by Capxon Taiwan, requiring Capxon Taiwan to compensate the customer for the damages caused. Therefore, Capxon Taiwan had to provide for such damages in the amount of approximately RMB174,531,000.

BUSINESS REVIEW

MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF ALUMINUM FOILS

During the Year, after satisfying internal production demand, external sales of aluminum foils amounted to approximately RMB93,271,000, representing a decrease of approximately 38.40% as compared to that of RMB151,409,000 in the same period last year. The share of aluminum foils in the Group's total external sales decreased from approximately 14.11% in the same period last year to approximately 9.42% for the Year.

Under the lead of the United States ("US"), the global market maintained a slow recovery during the Year, with improvements shown in the international trade of the Eurozone. However, the economic performance of Asia was relatively weak, as manifested by the economic slowdown in China and Japan and the weak investment and consumption performance of Southeast Asia in light of lingered growth in major economies around the globe. Geopolitical conflicts in Europe and nations in the Middle East have impacted the global economy. The general economic growth was picking up but the recovery momentum was still weak. The market demand for end-products and upstream raw materials failed to expand significantly. The weak demand resulted in insufficient sales orders, excessive production capacity for formed foils, higher unit cost of production of aluminum foils, and in turn suppressed gross profit under such high cost yet low selling price. The Group lowered the main production cost by taking advantage of the relatively low electricity tariff, and mitigated the impact of low gross profit by lowering its material acquisition cost through bulk procurement and, by enhancing production techniques through technological reform, energy-savings and consumption reductions. On the other hand, the Group also actively explored markets with high added values, developed customized products for stabilizing production capacity and uplifting production value.

Aluminum foils are the major raw materials of capacitors, thus a high quality of which is required. The Group has positioned the high quality formed foils as a major product in its sales strategy to, firstly, provide adequate high quality raw materials for the Group's own production of capacitors so as to lower the production costs and control product quality; and secondly, sell to both domestic and overseas manufacturers of capacitors. Not only can the Group develop customized aluminum foils in accordance with customers' requests, it also understands the market demand and is able to enhance its own R&D capacity through mutual cooperation with the customers.

The Group has excellent production processing technologies for formed foils and stable production capacity. Currently, the production line of formed foils in Capxon Qinghai has been operating in full swing and undergoing steady mass production. Various key technical research and development projects and quality control techniques have also achieved the expected goals.

1. A segmented intelligent tension control system was installed on the production line to maintain the tension balance between each segment of the production line through computer coordinated control in order to guarantee the steady operation of aluminum foil production and ensure consistency in the quality of aluminum foils.
2. A technical parameter (electric current, voltage, temperature and thickness) monitoring early warning platform was established on the production line. Through online supervision of each technical parameter throughout the aluminum foil production process, the dynamic information about each technical parameter of the production line can be identified and recorded in a timely manner. In case of any deviation in the technical parameters, instant warnings will be issued to remind the technical staff to handle the problem in a timely manner in order to prevent further aggravation of the production line techniques. The establishment of such platform can effectively reduce the product defect rate by facilitating stable control of the production techniques and monitoring of the production process.
3. The fluid supply system on the production line was transformed from supplying both water and fluid to fluid supply only. The change of fluid supply method has enhanced the stability of the thickness of the electrolytic tank solution on the production line and is beneficial to the consistency of product quality.
4. In the second half of 2014, technological renovations effectively improved the distribution of electric current in electrolytic tanks within the etching production lines. Plastic plates were used to cover the graphite plates in electrolytic tanks at different angles and different shapes, to improve the distribution of electric current in electrolytic tanks, and in turn the even distribution in electric current on the surface of aluminum foils, so as to maintain the consistent quality of aluminum foils.

Given our target-achieving technical research and development, stable output and proper quality tracking and control, it is expected that the Group's supply of formed foils will not merely satisfy its internal demand but also be sufficient to meet the needs of other capacitor manufacturers. In future, in light of the economic structure reform and localization of industrial supply chain in Mainland China, the Group will play a more active role in developing the market in China by leveraging on the vertically integrated strengths of its two major products and on its capability of supplying locally. In the meantime, the Group will also continually explore the overseas markets by increasing the sales visibility of its aluminum foils with a view to reducing its dependence on the China market.

Management Discussion and Analysis

MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF CAPACITORS

External sales of aluminum electrolytic capacitors during the Year were approximately RMB896,354,000, representing approximately 90.58% of the Group's total external sales, an increase of approximately 4.69 percentage points from approximately 85.89% in the same period last year.

In light of the multi-tasking requirements for electronic products, the Group strives to advance its capacitor production technology. The Group's aluminum electrolytic capacitors offer a comprehensive range of size and specifications, and are characterized by features such as long life, high capacitance, low impedance, energy-saving, high temperature resistance and high voltage tolerance. For example:

- We expanded the mass production of the 35V SMD series high voltage conductive polymers
- The advanced miniaturized versions of 560uF6.3V and 270uF16V, which are exclusively for display cards, were completely put into mass production
- In respect of the application of conductive polymers on motherboards, long-life products with a life of up to 10,000 hours were successfully introduced to the low inductance series
- We further refined the production process of conductive polymers. The capacitance induced rate of the PX series for use by adapters was increased by 10%, with a corresponding reduction of material usage
- We satisfied customers' needs and increased the production capacity of the production line simply by enhancing the ripple-current resistance of the UB, UC, UD, UJ, UK and UL series capacitors, which are exclusively for inverter airconditioners, by 30%
- To meet the customized requirements of small chargers, we successfully developed an ultra-thin high-voltage capacitor with lightning surge resistance
- The 125°C TZ series low impedance products with a life of up to 5,000 hours and 130°C LH series long-life products with a life of up to 3,000 hours exclusively for LED
- We finished developing a 5-6.3mm miniaturized product with a life of up to 10,000 hours for the GT series
- For the AEC-Q200 vehicle-mounted capacitors, a laboratory has been built and the whole series of products has passed all the testing requirements

GREEN PRODUCTION MECHANISM

Restriction of Hazardous Substances Directive 2002/95/EC ("RoHS") is an environmental protection directive enacted by the European Union in 2003 which came into effect in July 2006. It principally regulates the standards of the raw materials and production process used in electronic products. As far as the examination of the composition of raw materials and the overall production process are concerned, the Group has installed the relevant equipment and apparatuses to support quality control and management so as to ensure compliance with the requirements of the RoHS. In addition, in full compliance with the SVHC (Substances of Very High Concern) and halogen-free regulations, the Group has shouldered environmental protection responsibilities, thereby winning the trustworthiness from its clients and creating new opportunities for green business.

LIQUIDITY AND FINANCIAL RESOURCES

CASH FLOWS

The Group's cash demand was primarily derived from the acquisition of property, plants and equipment, costs and expenses related to operating activities, and payment of bank loan interest and borrowings. During the Year, the Group obtained its cash resources from operating activities.

During the Year, the Group had a net cash inflow of approximately RMB20,168,000 from operating, investing and financing activities before foreign exchange adjustment, the details of which are set out below:

Net cash inflow from operating activities was approximately RMB107,430,000, which was mainly due to the loss before tax for the Year of approximately RMB137,040,000 together with the changes in the flow of funds as a result of the adjustments for finance costs and depreciation etc., movements in inventories, accounts receivable and accounts payable etc.

Net cash inflow from investing activities was approximately RMB2,128,000, which was mainly due to the payment of approximately RMB26,327,000 for the purchase of machinery and equipment, proceeds from the disposals of plant and equipment of approximately RMB4,734,000 and a net decrease of approximately RMB23,158,000 in secured bank deposits.

Net cash outflow from financing activities was approximately RMB89,390,000, which was mainly due to borrowings of approximately RMB660,451,000 from the banks, repayment of the bank borrowings of approximately RMB737,753,000 and interest payment of approximately RMB16,338,000 for the borrowings.

As at 31 December 2014, the Group had cash and cash equivalents of approximately RMB108,163,000 (31 December 2013: RMB87,867,000), which were mainly denominated in Renminbi and US dollars.

BORROWINGS

As at 31 December 2014, the Group had bank borrowings of approximately RMB278,056,000 (31 December 2013: RMB354,956,000), which were mainly denominated in Renminbi and US dollars. Such borrowings were mainly subject to fixed (31 December 2013: fixed) interest rates. In addition to the abovementioned bank borrowings, the Group did not have advances drawn on bills receivable discounted with recourse due within one year as at 31 December 2014 (31 December 2013: RMB18,235,000). Below is an analysis of the repayment profile of the bank borrowings:

	31 December 2014 RMB'000	31 December 2013 RMB'000
Within one year or on demand	278,056	372,987
In the second year	-	204

The Group's turnover days of inventories, turnover days of trade and bills receivable and turnover days of trade and bills payable were about 4 days, 3 days and 4 days respectively longer than those for the same period last year. The Group will continue to improve on the management of its inventories, trade receivable and trade payable in order to better utilize the available funds.

CAPITAL COMMITMENTS

As at 31 December 2014, the Group had capital commitments contracted but not provided for amounting to approximately RMB28,921,000 (31 December 2013: RMB37,499,000).

MATERIAL PROCEEDINGS

- (a) During the year ended 31 December 2011, a customer filed a request for arbitration enclosing a statement of claim against Capxon Taiwan to The Japan Commercial Arbitration Association (the "Arbitration Association") in Japan, claiming JPY1,412,106,000 (equivalent to approximately RMB72,300,000) suffered by the customer with respect to certain alleged defective electrolytic capacitors supplied by Capxon Taiwan, plus interest accrued thereon from 1 January 2011 up to the settlement date at 6% per annum and all arbitration related expenses. Capxon Taiwan rejected the claims charged by the customer and filed a request for arbitration to counterclaim JPY60,000,000 (equivalent to approximately RMB3,072,000) from the customer for the damages caused, plus interest from 17 November 2011 up to the settlement date at 6% per annum and all arbitration related expenses.

In August 2014, Capxon Taiwan received the arbitral award from the Arbitration Association which requires Capxon Taiwan to compensate the customer damages in an aggregate sum of:

- (i) damages of JPY2,427,186,647 (equivalent to approximately RMB124,272,000);
- (ii) interest on deferred payment of (i) above and such interest is calculated at 6% per annum on (a) JPY1,311,973,002 (equivalent to approximately RMB67,173,000) accrued from 1 January 2011 until payment in full; (b) JPY942,366,339 (equivalent to approximately RMB48,249,000) accrued from 1 July 2012 until payment in full and (c) JPY172,847,306 (equivalent to approximately RMB8,850,000) accrued from 1 December 2012 until payment in full; and
- (iii) arbitration related expenses of JPY23,618,062 (equivalent to approximately RMB1,209,000).

In October 2014, Capxon Taiwan filed a petition to the Tokyo District Court for the annulment of the arbitral award. Decision has not been reached in the hearing on the Tokyo District Court up to the date of this report. The directors of the Company (the "Directors") believe that the Group has sufficient grounds to the petition. However, the ultimate outcome of the petition cannot be assessed at this preliminary stage. Therefore, provision for damages of approximately RMB174,531,000 was recognised in profit or loss for the Year as a result of the initial arbitral award.

- (b) During the year ended 31 December 2011, a customer filed a civil complaint to the People's Court of Shenzhen in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC") against a subsidiary of the Company, Capxon Electronic (Shenzhen) Co., Ltd. (豐賓電子(深圳)有限公司) ("Capxon Shenzhen"), claiming product defect compensation of RMB12,877,000. The first hearing was completed on the court in December 2014 which concluded that insufficient evidence had been provided by the customer and therefore Capxon Shenzhen is not liable for any compensation to the customer. The customer then filed an appeal against the court's decision and another hearing has to be arranged and heard. The Directors believe that it is not probable for the decision of the court to be overturned, and thus no provision for any potential liability has been made in the consolidated financial statements.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE FLUCTUATIONS

The Group derives its revenue principally in US dollars and Renminbi, whilst the expenses are mainly denominated in Japanese Yen, Renminbi, US dollars and New Taiwan dollars. As the revenue and expenses are denominated in different currencies, the exposure to exchange risks was mostly managed through natural hedges. However, where there is a relatively large appreciation in Renminbi, the Group will still be indirectly affected.

At present, Renminbi is not a freely convertible currency. The PRC government may adopt measures which could result in a material difference between the future and prevailing or historical exchange rates of Renminbi.

EMPLOYMENT AND REMUNERATION POLICY

As at 31 December 2014, the Group had approximately 2,310 employees in total. Salary, bonus and fringe benefits were determined with reference to the prevailing market terms and individual employee's performance, qualification and experience. Employees' cost (including directors' emoluments) amounted to approximately RMB185,073,000 for the Year (for the year ended 31 December 2013: RMB184,182,000).

FUTURE STRATEGY AND PLANNING

In 2015, the overall capacitor market is expected to enjoy continuous growth because of the upgrade and sophistication of application products, such as smart handsets, network products and wearable devices, and the low-volume high-priced niche markets for non-3C application industries, such as automobile electronics, industrial equipment and renewable energy resources equipment. This also means that the future of passive components will continue to feature miniaturization, high frequency, high capacity, high voltage, durability and high resistance to heat. In view of the uncertain and ever-changing external economic circumstances and the potential development of the industrial market, the Group will adhere to its inherent operating strategy of researching and developing advanced and sophisticated production process and strictly managing quality control, implementing source management and endeavouring to reduce costs, as well as effectively utilizing the supply advantage brought by vertical integration with economies of scale.

- Human resources: Streamline labour requirements by controlling overtime man-hours with operational targets and minimize labour costs by managing the number of hours with the actual operation rate. Automatic corner processing equipment has been introduced under the Snap-in production line plan to save manpower and enhance efficiency.
- Production equipment: Increase production lines for conductive polymers to expand production capacity, and set up automated equipment for semi-conductive polymers which will be put to trial run.
- Material costs: Consolidate various types of materials, reduce part numbers and specification, and cut inventory backlog, procurement costs and slow-moving materials. As for conductive polymers, the induced rate has been raised while the voltage forming ratio has been lowered, with an effective reduction of material usage.
- Material development: Development of SMD production line uses titanium foils as the negative-pole foils to maximize capacitance and satisfy the customized requirements of miniaturized and high-proportion capacitance.
- Verification: Strengthen communications regarding applications at customer end and promptly understand the development dynamics of products. Establish state-of-the-art electronic application laboratory to simulate production applications at end users, judge the potential failure of capacitor performance and the reasons thereof well in advance, in order to uplift quality of capacitors for better customer satisfaction.

- Technical reform:
 - Oriented by application-led development: Leveraging upon our advantage in the R&D of application technology, to develop, using in-house capability, packages similar to end customers for testing and verifying the actual environment for applications (e.g. high-speed charging and discharging packages, variable-frequency wave electric current sources etc.), to swiftly grasp the actual requirements for capacitors, which is an active approach to guiding customers in their choices for suitable capacitors rather than the original passive approach in which customers choose their own capacitors. This strategy is applied in areas including industrial frequency variations, frequency variations in air-conditioners and washing machines, electricity sources at stations, photovoltaic energy sources, automobile electronics, and has been successful to a certain extent.
 - Project development and promotion: In 2015 we will primarily launch two projects; 1. Variable-frequency capacitors, varying from basic raw materials (e.g. aluminum foil craftsmanship, electrolyte formula etc.) to specialty formulations and specialty series (e.g. UJ/UB/UC/UD/UK/UL etc.), to make use of our ability in the R&D of applications and development of capacitor series, and uplift our position in the market supply of variable-frequency capacitor applications. 2. Automobile electronics: In 2014, we made progress in the applications and market supply of automobile electronics in Mainland China. In 2015, we will establish dedicated workshops for automobile electronics to be operated by dedicated staff members responsible for technology, quality assurance and R&D, so that our vehicle-mounted electronics and electrolytic capacitors can become better and more sophisticated, our R&D of applications in relevant areas can become stronger, and the overall quality of our capacitor products can become more stable by means of technological upgrade.
 - Breakthrough in the development of basic materials: 1. The uplift in the high-ratio capacitors for formed foils, so as to consolidate our leading position in our capacity production technology by means of material R&D. 2. Development of highly reliable specialty electrolytes: self-enhancement of the development of GBL electrolytes for promoting the research of vehicle-mounted electronic applications; the development and application of variable-frequency capacitors and electrolytes can ensure that variable-frequency capacitors can stand at the frontier of industrial development.
 - Super capacitor: Strategically plan for the technological support from researches conducted by colleges and introduce the development and production of farad capacitors, in order to address the needs for high-speed charging given the long stand-by time required by modern-day mobile electronic devices.

FUTURE PROSPECTS

Pursuing sustainable operations and sharing profit with shareholders of the Company have always been the goals of the Group. In the future, the Group will persistently focus on the existing industry and maintain vertical integration on the manufacturing and marketing of aluminum foil and capacitor products. We focus on innovative R&D and strive for excellence. Leveraging on our edges of vertical integration, we will effectively control costs and enhance manufacturing efficiency, in order to maintain our competitiveness in the industry. With technological advancement and product innovation, we will serve and maintain a stable relationship with existing customers. The Group will proactively explore new markets and meet mass production planning, and develop towards the target of economies of scale.

The Group will adhere to its mission of sustainable operations, enhance the efficiency of industry vertical integration, overcome the challenges of economies of scale as well as stabilize the value and revenue from the industry, in order to reward the Company's shareholders for their support with profits.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit and to report our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Decision has not been reached in the hearing on the Tokyo District Court up to the date of this report. The eventual success or otherwise of the petition may have a material effect on the final amount to be recognised. However, the ultimate outcome of the petition cannot be assessed at this preliminary stage.

Notes:

(i) The capital reserve represents the aggregate of the difference between the consolidated shareholders' funds of the subsidiaries at the date on which they were acquired by the Company, and the nominal amount of the Company's ordinary shares issued in exchange at the time of a group reorganisation prior to the listing of the Company's ordinary shares on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited.

(ii) Under the relevant regulations in the People's Republic of China (the "PRC"), certain subsidiaries of the Company which established in the PRC are required to make appropriation to the statutory reserve fund at 10% of their profit after tax based on their statutory financial statements. The statutory reserve fund may only be used, upon approval by the relevant authorities, to offset accumulated losses or to increase the capital of those subsidiaries.

According to the laws and regulations of Taiwan, a subsidiary of the Company which incorporated in Taiwan is required to set aside 10% of its statutory net income each year for legal reserve, until the reserve balance has reached the paid-in share capital amount.

(iii) During the year ended 31 December 2014, the Group accounted for the acquisition on additional interests of subsidiaries as equity transaction and the difference between the carrying amount of non-controlling interests and the fair value of the consideration paid, amounting to RMB1,679,000, was recognised in other reserve.

During the year ended 31 December 2013, the Group accounted for the deemed acquisition on additional interest of a subsidiary as equity transaction and the difference between the carrying amount of non-controlling interests and the fair value of the consideration paid, amounting to RMB1,971,000 was recognised in other reserve.

2. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“IFRSs”) (continued)

IFRS 9 FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

IFRS 9 issued in 2009 introduces new requirements for the classification and measurement of financial assets. IFRS 9 amended in 2011 includes the requirements for the classification and measurement of financial liabilities and for derecognition, and further amended in 2014 to include the new requirements for hedge accounting.

Key requirements of IFRS 9 are described as follows:

- All recognised financial assets that are within the scope of IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement are subsequently measured at amortised cost or fair value. Specifically, debt investments that are held within a business model whose objective is to collect the contractual cash flows, and that have contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding are generally measured at amortised cost at the end of subsequent accounting periods. All other debt investments and equity investments are measured at their fair values at the end of subsequent reporting periods. In addition, under IFRS 9, entities may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of an equity investment (that is not held for trading) in other comprehensive income, with only dividend income generally recognised in profit or loss.
- With regard to the measurement of financial liabilities designated as at fair value through profit or loss, IFRS 9 requires that the amount of change in the fair value of the financial liability that is attributable to changes in the credit risk of that liability is presented in other comprehensive income, unless the recognition of the effects of changes in the liability's credit risk in other comprehensive income would create or enlarge an accounting mismatch in profit or loss. Changes in fair value attributable to a financial liability's credit risk are not subsequently reclassified to profit or loss. Under IAS 39, the entire amount of the change in the fair value of the financial liability designated as at fair value through profit or loss was presented in profit or loss.
- The new general hedge accounting requirements retain the three types of hedge accounting. However, greater flexibility has been introduced to the types of transactions eligible for hedge accounting, specifically broadening the types of instruments that qualify for hedging instruments and the types of risk components of non-financial items that are eligible for hedge accounting. In addition, the effectiveness test has been overhauled and replaced with the principle of an 'economic relationship'. Retrospective assessment of hedge effectiveness is also no longer required. Enhanced disclosure requirements about an entity's risk management activities have also been introduced.

The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of IFRS 9 will not have a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Group.

IFRS 15 REVENUE FROM CONTRACTS WITH CUSTOMERS

In July 2014, IFRS 15 was issued which establishes a single comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers. IFRS 15 will supersede the current revenue recognition guidance including IAS 18 Revenue, IAS 11 Construction Contracts and the related Interpretations when it becomes effective.

The core principle of IFRS 15 is that an entity should recognise revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Specifically, the standard introduces a 5-step approach to revenue recognition:

- Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer
- Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 3: Determine the transaction price
- Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract
- Step 5: Recognise revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

Under IFRS 15, an entity recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when 'control' of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer. Far more prescriptive guidance has been added in IFRS 15 to deal with specific scenarios. Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by IFRS 15.

The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of IFRS 15 in the future may have a material impact on the amounts reported and disclosures made in the Group's consolidated financial statements. However, it is not practicable to provide a reasonable estimate of the effect of IFRS 15 until the Group performs a detailed review.

AMENDMENTS TO IAS 19 DEFINED BENEFIT PLANS: EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS

The amendments to IAS 19 clarify how an entity should account for contributions made by employees or third parties to defined benefit plans, based on whether those contributions are dependent on the number of years of service provided by the employee.

For contributions that are independent of the number of years of service, the entity may either recognise the contributions as a reduction in the service cost in the period in which the related service is rendered, or to attribute them to the employees' periods of service using the projected unit credit method; whereas for contributions that are dependent on the number of years of service, the entity is required to attribute them to the employees' periods of service.

The directors of the Company do not anticipate that the application of these amendments to IAS 19 will have a significant impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of the other new and revised standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective will have no material effect on amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and/or disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements of the Group.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRSs. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies set out below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope for IFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IAS 17 Leases, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in IAS 2 Inventories or value in use in IAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below.

BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Company.

REVENUE RECOGNITION

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue is reduced for estimated customer returns, rebates and other similar allowances.

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the goods are delivered and title has been passed, at which time all the following conditions are satisfied:

- the Group has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;
- the Group retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- the amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Group; and
- the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

Property, plant and equipment including buildings held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes (other than freehold land and construction in progress as described below) are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment other than freehold land and construction in progress less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Properties in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost, less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include professional fees and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Such properties are classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

No depreciation is provided in respect of freehold land.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

LEASING

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Group as lessee

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight line basis over the lease terms.

LEASEHOLD LAND AND BUILDING

When a lease includes both land and building elements, the Group assesses the classification of each element as a finance or an operating lease separately based on the assessment as to whether substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of each element have been transferred to the Group, unless it is clear that both elements are operating leases, in which case the entire lease is classified as an operating lease. Specifically, the minimum lease payments (including any lump-sum upfront payments) are allocated between the land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values of the leasehold interests in the land element and building element of the lease at the inception of the lease.

To the extent the allocation of the lease payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land that is accounted for as an operating lease is presented as "land use rights" in the consolidated statement of financial position and is amortised over the lease terms on a straight line basis.

FOREIGN CURRENCIES

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in the respective functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are re-translated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not re-translated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the retranslation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

For the purposes of presenting the consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign operations are translated into the presentation currency of the Group (i.e. RMB) using exchange rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period. Income and expenses items are translated at the average exchange rates for the year. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the heading of translation reserve (attributed to non-controlling interest as appropriate).

BORROWING COSTS

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

GOVERNMENT GRANTS

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognised as deferred income in the consolidated statement of financial position and transferred to profit or loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

RETIREMENT BENEFIT COSTS

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans, state-managed retirement benefit schemes and the Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme are charged as expenses when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

For defined benefit retirement benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is reflected immediately in the statement of financial position with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Remeasurement recognised in other comprehensive income is reflected immediately in retained profits and will not be reclassified to profit or loss. Past service cost is recognised in profit or loss in the period of a plan amendment. Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate at the beginning of the period to the net defined benefit liability or asset. Defined benefit costs are categorised as follows:

- service cost (including current service cost, past service cost, as well as gains and losses on curtailments and settlements);
- net interest expense or income; and
- remeasurement.

The Group presents the first two components of defined benefit costs in profit or loss as employee benefit expenses. Curtailment gains and losses are accounted for as past service costs.

The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position represents the actual deficit or surplus in the Group's defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

A liability for a termination benefit is recognised at the earlier of when the Group entity can no longer withdraw the offer of the termination benefit and when the entity recognises any related restructuring costs.

TAXATION

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from '(loss) profit before tax' as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary difference to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of the reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when it relates to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the current and deferred tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

INTANGIBLE ASSETS

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at costs less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation for intangible assets with finite useful lives is provided on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured at the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the profit or loss in the period when the asset is derecognised.

Research and development expenditure

Expenditure on research activities is recognised as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

An internally-generated intangible asset arising from development activities (or from the development phase of an internal project) is recognised if, and only if, all of the following have been demonstrated:

- the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- the intention to complete the intangible asset and use or sell it;
- the ability to use or sell the intangible asset;
- how the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- the availability of adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- the ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development.

The amount initially recognised for internally-generated intangible asset is the sum of the expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria listed above. Where no internally-generated intangible asset can be recognised, development expenditure is charged to profit or loss in the period in which it is incurred. Subsequent to initial recognition, internally-generated intangible asset is measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses (if any), on the same basis as intangible assets acquired separately.

INVENTORIES

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs of inventories are calculated using the weighted average method. Net realisable value represents the estimate selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised on the consolidated statement of financial position when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Financial assets

The Group's financial assets are classified as loans and receivables. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial assets and is determined at the time of initial recognition. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest income is recognised on an effective interest basis for debt instruments.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Subsequent to initial recognition, loans and receivables (including trade and other receivables, bills receivable discounted with recourse, pledged bank deposits, and bank balances and cash) are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any identified impairment losses (see accounting policy on impairment of financial assets below).

Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets, are assessed for indicators of impairment at the end of each reporting period. Financial assets are considered to be impaired where there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial asset, the estimated future cash flows of the financial assets have been affected.

Objective evidence of impairment could include:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or counterparty;
- breach of contract, such as default or delinquency in interest or principal payments; or
- it becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or financial re-organisation.

For certain categories of financial asset, such as trade receivables, assets that are assessed not to be impaired individually are, in addition, assessed for impairment on a collective basis. Objective evidence of impairment for a portfolio of receivables could include the Group's past experience of collecting payments, an increase in the number of delayed payments in the portfolio past the average credit period of 30 days to 180 days and observable changes in national or local economic conditions that correlate with default on receivables.

For financial assets carried at amortised cost, the amount of the impairment loss recognised is difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate.

For financial assets carried at cost, the amount of the impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Such impairment loss will not be reversed in subsequent periods.

The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss directly for all financial assets with the exception of trade receivables, where the carrying amount is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Changes in the carrying amount of the allowance account are recognised in profit or loss. When a trade receivable is considered uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to profit or loss.

For financial assets measured at amortised cost, if, in a subsequent period, the amount of impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset at the date the impairment is reversed does not exceed what the amortised cost would have been had the impairment not been recognised.

Financial liabilities and equity instruments

Debt and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the group entities are recognised at the proceed received, net of direct issue costs.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities including trade and other payables, bank borrowings and amounts due to related parties are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest expense is recognised on an effective interest basis.

Derecognition

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable and the cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity is recognised in profit or loss.

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or expire. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

PROVISIONS AND CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Group will be required to settle that obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material).

Where the Group has a possible obligation that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, the possible obligation is disclosed as contingent liability.

IMPAIRMENT LOSSES ON TANGIBLE AND INTANGIBLE ASSETS

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets with finite useful lives to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or a cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately.

4. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, which are described in Note 3, the directors of the Company makes various estimates about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

PROVISION FOR DAMAGES

Note 34(a) describes a request for arbitration filed by a customer enclosing a statement of claim against a subsidiary of the Company, Capxon Electronic Industrial Company Limited (豐賓電子工業股份有限公司) ("Capxon Taiwan"), to The Japan Commercial Arbitration Association (the "Arbitration Association") in Japan during the year ended 31 December 2011.

In August 2014, Capxon Taiwan received the arbitral award from the Arbitration Association which requires Capxon Taiwan to compensate the customer damages in an aggregate sum of a damages of JPY2,427,186,647 plus interest on deferred payment and arbitration related expenses.

In October 2014, Capxon Taiwan filed a petition to the Tokyo District Court for the annulment of the arbitral award. Decision has not been reached in the hearing on the Tokyo District Court up to the date of this report. The directors of the Company believe that the Group has sufficient grounds to the petition. However, the ultimate outcome of the petition cannot be assessed at this preliminary stage. Where the actual future damages payments are more or less than expected, overprovision or underprovision for damages may arise, which would be recognised in profit or loss for the period in which the ultimate outcome of the defence is reached. Provision for damages of approximately RMB174,531,000 was recognised in the consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2014.

ESTIMATED IMPAIRMENT OF TRADE RECEIVABLES

When there is objective evidence of impairment loss, the Group takes into consideration the estimation of future cash flows. The amount of the impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate (i.e. the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). Where the actual future cash flows are different from expected, a material impairment or reversal may arise.

As at 31 December 2014, the carrying amount of trade receivables is RMB323,120,000 (net of allowance for doubtful debts of RMB18,783,000) (2013: carrying amount of RMB397,261,000, net of allowance for doubtful debts of RMB12,125,000).

4. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY (continued)

ALLOWANCE FOR INVENTORIES

The Group exercises their estimates in making allowance for inventories. The Group reviews the inventory listing at the end of the reporting period, and makes allowance for obsolete and slow-moving inventory items identified that no longer suitable for use in operation. Management estimates the net realisable value for such items based primarily on the latest invoice prices, sales after year end and current market conditions. As at 31 December 2014, the carrying amount of inventories is RMB164,660,000 (net of allowance for inventories of RMB44,136,000) (2013: RMB163,822,000, net of allowance for inventories of RMB47,041,000).

5. REVENUE AND SEGMENTAL INFORMATION

Revenue represents the amounts received and receivable for goods sold, net of sales taxes, discounts and returns, for the year.

The Group's reportable and operating segments are as follows:

Capacitors	–	Manufacture and sale of capacitors

The accounting policies of the operating segments are the same as the Group's accounting policies described in Note 3. Segment profit (loss) represents the profit earned by (loss from) each segment without allocation of central administration costs, interest income, finance costs and provision for damages. However, the related bank balances and the bank borrowings of the reportable segments are reported to the Group's chief decision makers as part of segment assets and liabilities. In addition, tax expense is not allocated to segments while tax liabilities and deferred tax assets are allocated as part of segment liabilities and segment assets respectively. This is the measure reported to the Group's chief decision makers for the purposes of resource allocation and assessment of segment performance.

Inter-segment sales are charged at prevailing market rates.

26. RETIREMENT BENEFIT PLANS

(I) DEFINED BENEFIT PENSION PLAN

The Company's subsidiary incorporated in Taiwan, Capxon Taiwan, has a defined benefit pension plan, covering substantially all of its employees who were recruited by Capxon Taiwan before the implementation of the Employee Pension Act on 1 July 2005. The defined benefit pension plan requires contributions to be made to separately administered funds.

The board of the pension fund is composed of an equal number of representatives from both employers and employees. The board of the pension fund is required by law and by its articles of association to act in the interest of the fund and of all relevant stakeholders in the plan, i.e. active employees, inactive employees, retirees, employers. The board of the pension fund is responsible for the investment policy with regard to the assets of the fund.

Under the plan, the employees are entitled to retirement benefits at the annual based on an accumulated base point, which is determined by them of years of service, with 45 point at maximum multiplied by the average salaries of the last 6 months on attainment of a retirement age ranging from 55 to 65. No other post-retirement benefits are provided to these employees.

The plan in Taiwan exposes the Group to actuarial risks such as investment risk, interest rate risk and salary risk.

Investment risk The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate determined by reference to high quality corporate bond yields; if the return on plan asset is below this rate, it will create a plan deficit. Currently the plan has a relatively balanced investment in equity securities and debt instruments. Due to the long-term nature of the plan liabilities, the board of the pension fund considers it appropriate that a reasonable portion of the plan assets should be invested in equity securities to leverage the return generated by the fund.

Interest risk A decrease in the bond interest rate will increase the plan liability; however, this will be partially offset by an increase in the return on the plan's debt investments.

Salary risk The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, an increase in the salary of the plan participants will increase the plan liability.

Movements in the fair value of the plan assets in the current year were as follows:

Fair value of plan assets at end of the year	707	707

26. RETIREMENT BENEFIT PLANS (continued)

The fair value of the plan assets at the end of the reporting period for each category, are as follows.

	Fair value of plan assets
	2014 RMB'000	2013 RMB'000
Cash and cash equivalents	135	172
Debt instruments	98	104
Equity instruments	474	431
Total	707	707

The fair values of the above equity and debt instruments are determined based on quoted market prices in active markets.

Significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined obligation are discount rate, expected salary increase and mortality. The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

- If the discount rate is 50 basis points higher/lower, the defined benefit obligation would decrease by RMB418,000/increase by RMB470,000 (2013: decrease by RMB451,000/increase by RMB506,000).
- If the expected salary growth increases/decreases by 0.5%, the defined benefit obligation would increase by RMB469,000/decrease by RMB421,000 (2013: increase by RMB532,000/decrease by RMB430,000).

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligations as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligations has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

Each year an Asset-Liability-Matching study is performed in which the consequences of the strategic investment policies are analysed in terms of risk-and-return profiles. Investment and contribution policies are integrated within this study. Main strategic choices that are formulated in the actuarial and technical policy document of the fund with asset mix based on 67% equity instruments, 14% debt instruments and 19% cash and cash equivalents.

Capxon Taiwan funds the cost of the entitlements expected to be earned on a yearly basis. The contribution (including back service payments) is paid by Capxon Taiwan. The funding requirements are based on the local actuarial measurement framework. In this framework the discount rate is set on a risk free rate. Furthermore, premiums are determined on a current salary base. Additional liabilities stemming from past service due to salary increases (back-service liabilities) are paid immediately to the fund. Apart from paying the costs of the entitlements, Capxon Taiwan is not liable to pay additional contributions in case the fund does not hold sufficient assets. In that case, the fund would take other measures to restore its solvency, such as a reduction of the entitlements of the plan members.

The average duration of the benefit obligations at 31 December 2014 is 9.4 years (2013: 12.8 years).

The Group expected to make a RMB20,000 as at 31 December 2013 (2014: nil) to the defined benefit plans during the next financial year.

(II) DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PENSION SCHEMES

The employees of the Company's subsidiaries in the PRC are members of state-managed retirement pension schemes operated by the local government. The subsidiaries are required to contribute a specified percentage of their payroll costs to the retirement pension scheme to fund the benefits. The only obligation of the Group with respect to the retirement pension scheme is to make the specified contributions.

The Group operates a Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme for all qualifying employees in Hong Kong. The assets of the scheme are held separately from those of the Group, in funds under the control of trustees. The Group contributes the lower of HK$1,250 before 31 May 2014 and HK$1,500 effective from 1 June 2014 as defined in the Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme Ordinance per month or 5% of relevant payroll costs as a mandatory contribution to the scheme, which contribution is matched by the employee.

The total expense recognised in profit or loss during the year were RMB13,081,000 (2013: RMB12,895,000) represents contributions payable/paid to these plans by the Group at rates specified in the rules of the schemes. All the contributions had been paid over to the schemes as at the end of the reporting period.

27. DEFERRED INCOME

During the year ended 31 December 2014, Capxon Qinghai received government grants of RMB4,520,000 (2013: RMB5,400,000) in total from 西寧經濟技術開發區東川工業園區財政局, 青海省商務廳 and 青海省科學技術廳 for the encouragement of setting up of aluminium foils production lines in Qinghai. The setting up of the production lines has not been completed as at 31 December 2014. the grants will be recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the useful life of the production lines upon the completion of production lines.

29. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to shareholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged from prior year.

The capital structure of the Group consists of bank borrowings and amounts due to related parties disclosed in Notes 24 and 25, respectively, net of cash and cash equivalents and equity attributable to owners of the Company, comprising issued share capital, share premium and various reserves.

Management of the Group reviews the capital structure regularly and taking into account of the cost and risk associated with the capital. Generally, the Group employs a conservative strategy regarding its risk management. The Group will balance its overall capital structure through the payment of dividends, new share issues of the Company as well as the raising of bank loans.

30B. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's major financial instruments include trade and other receivables, amounts due to related parties, trade and other payables, bills receivable discounted with recourse, pledged bank deposits, bank balances and cash and bank borrowings. Details of the financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments include market risk (currency risk and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. Management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner.

Market risk

(i) Currency risk

The Group mainly operates in the PRC with transactions substantially entered into in RMB, and the exposure to exchange rate risks mainly arises from the foreign currency sales and purchases and the bank balances and bank borrowings denominated in foreign currency. Approximately 46.33% (2013: 42.87%) of the Group's sales and 55.42% (2013: 51.24%) of the Group's purchase are denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of the respective group entities.

The carrying amount of the Group's monetary assets (representing trade and other receivables, bills receivable discounted with recourse and bank balances) and monetary liabilities (representing trade and other payables and bank borrowings) denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of the relevant group entities at the reporting dates are as follows:

	Assets		Liabilities
	2014 RMB'000	2013 RMB'000	2014 RMB'000	2013 RMB'000
Hong Kong Dollars ("HKD")	29,242	29,284	14,545	21,254
USD	130,912	151,488	188,748	232,974
New Taiwan Dollars ("NTD")	240	695	–	197
Euro ("EUR")	1,615	5	–	416
JPY	5,815	1,684	21,952	17,961

The Group does not have a foreign currency hedging policy. However, management monitors foreign exchange exposure and will consider hedging significant foreign currency exposure should the need rises.

30B. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (continued)

Sensitivity analysis

The Group is mainly exposed to the fluctuation of HKD, USD, NTD, EUR and JPY against RMB.

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% increase and decrease in the functional currencies of respective group entities against the relevant foreign currencies. 5% is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year end for a 5% change in foreign currency rates. A positive number below indicates an increase in loss after tax (2013: profit after tax) where the functional currencies of respective group entities strengthen 5% against the relevant foreign currencies, and vice versa:

	2014 RMB'000	2013 RMB'000
HKD impact	551	(303)
USD impact	(2,162)	3,035
NTD impact	9	(19)
EUR impact	61	15
JPY impact	(617)	659

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to fair value interest rate risk in relation to fixed-rate borrowings (see Note 24 for details of these borrowings).

The Group is also exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to variable-rate borrowings, pledged bank deposits, amount due to a related party and bank balances. The Group tends to keep its borrowings, pledged bank deposits, amount due to a related party and bank balances at floating rate of interest so as to minimise the fair value interest rate risk. The Group currently does not have an interest rate hedging policy. However, management monitors interest rate exposure and will consider necessary action when significant interest rate exposure is anticipated.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for variable-rate borrowings. Management considered the cash flow interest rate risk in relation to variable-rate pledged bank deposits, amount due to a related party and bank balances is insignificant. The analysis is prepared assuming the borrowings outstanding at the end of the reporting period were outstanding for the whole year. A 25 basis point (2013: 25 basis point) increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 25 basis point (2013: 25 basis point) higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's post-tax loss for the year ended 31 December 2014 would increase/decrease by RMB163,000 (2013: profit for the year would decrease/increase by RMB223,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank borrowings.

30. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

Credit risk

As at 31 December 2014, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Group due to failure to discharge an obligation by the counterparties is arising from the carrying amount of the respective recognised financial assets as stated in the consolidated statement of financial position.

In order to minimise the credit risk, management of the Group has delegated a team responsible for determination of credit limits, credit approvals and other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group reviews the recoverable amount of each individual trade debt at the end of the reporting period to ensure that adequate impairment losses are made for irrecoverable amounts. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced.

Other than concentration of the credit risk on liquid funds which are deposited with several banks with high credit rating, the Group does not have any other significant concentration of credit risk on bank balances and trade receivables. Trade receivables consist of a large number of customers, spread across diverse industries and geographical areas.

Liquidity risk

In the management of the liquidity risk, the Group monitors and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by management to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. Management monitors the utilisation of bank borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

The Group relies on bank borrowings as a significant source of liquidity. As at 31 December 2014, the Group has available unutilised short-term bank loan facilities of approximately RMB315,000,000 (2013: RMB326,781,000). Details of bank borrowings are set out in Note 24.

The following table details the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities. The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. Specifically, bank borrowings with a repayment on demand clause are included in the earliest time band regardless the probability of the banks choosing to exercise their rights. The maturity date for other non-derivative financial liabilities are based on the agreed repayment dates.

34. MATERIAL PROCEEDINGS

- (a) During the year ended 31 December 2011, a customer filed a request for arbitration enclosing a statement of claim against Capxon Taiwan to the Arbitration Association in Japan, claiming JPY1,412,106,000 (equivalent to approximately RMB72,300,000) suffered by the customer with respect to certain alleged defective electrolytic capacitors supplied by Capxon Taiwan, plus interest accrued thereon from 1 January 2011 up to the settlement date at 6% per annum and all arbitration related expenses. Capxon Taiwan rejected the claims charged by the customer and filed a request for arbitration to counterclaim JPY60,000,000 (equivalent to approximately RMB3,072,000) from the customer for the damages caused, plus interest from 17 November 2011 up to the settlement date at 6% per annum and all arbitration related expenses.

In August 2014, Capxon Taiwan received the arbitral award from the Arbitration Association which requires Capxon Taiwan to compensate the customer damages in an aggregate sum of:

- (i) damages of JPY2,427,186,647 (equivalent to approximately RMB124,272,000);
- (ii) interest on deferred payment of (i) above and such interest is calculated at 6% per annum on (a) JPY1,311,973,002 (equivalent to approximately RMB67,173,000) accrued from 1 January 2011 until payment in full; (b) JPY942,366,339 (equivalent to approximately RMB48,249,000) accrued from 1 July 2012 until payment in full and (c) JPY172,847,306 (equivalent to approximately RMB8,850,000) accrued from 1 December 2012 until payment in full; and
- (iii) arbitration related expenses of JPY23,618,062 (equivalent to approximately RMB1,209,000).

In October 2014, Capxon Taiwan filed a petition to the Tokyo District Court for the annulment of the arbitral award. Decision has not been reached in the hearing on the Tokyo District Court up to the date of this report. The directors of the Company believe that the Group has sufficient grounds to the petition. However, the ultimate outcome of the petition cannot be assessed at this preliminary stage. Therefore, provision for damages of approximately RMB174,531,000 was recognised in profit or loss for the year ended 31 December 2014 as a result of the initial arbitral award.

- (b) During the year ended 31 December 2011, a customer filed a civil complaint to the People's Court of Shenzhen in the PRC against Capxon Shenzhen, claiming product defect compensation of RMB12,877,000. The first hearing was completed on the court in December 2014 which concluded that insufficient evidence had been provided by the customer and therefore Capxon Shenzhen is not liable for any compensation to the customer. The customer then filed an appeal against the court's decision and another hearing has to be arranged and heard. The directors of the Company believe that it is not probable for the decision of the court to be overturned, and thus no provision for any potential liability has been made in the consolidated financial statements.

35. PLEDGE OF ASSETS

At the end of the reporting period, the following assets were pledged to banks for banking facilities:
